UKRAINIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH WAS DEDICATED ON SUNDAY

Colorful Ceremony Held On Sunday Last As Former Trinity Hall Was Officially Opened—Over 400 People In Attendance Including Ministers Of Other Grimsby Churches—Many Present From Outside Points.

(By Art Bryden)

A new branch of the Ukrainian Church in Canada was opened on Sunday, July 31st in Grimsby. The new church is the former United Church of Canada Sunday School on Depot St. which was purchased some time ago by its present owners. The affair was attended by delegates bearing greetings from churches as far away as Windsor and Toronto as well as by the members of the local church who come from about a fourteen mile radius in this district. In all, approximately four hundred people were in attendance.

At nine-thirty A.M. a dedication service was held. The service lasted till about 12 noon when a ribbon-cutting ceremony was held. The new church was dedicated to St. George. Taking part in the ribbon-cutting ceremony were representatives and leaders from Windsor, Oshawa and Grimsby Churches. The services were conducted and the ribbon cut by Rev. Ulan of Oshawa.

The official opening was followed at one o'clock by a luncheon at which were present besides officials and leaders of the Orthodox Church several local English-speaking guests. These latter included Rev. and Mrs. E.A. Brooks, Rev. and Mrs. George McLean, Rev. and Mrs. J.P. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. McNiven, and Mrs. H.C. Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Rickmeier and Mr. Rickmeier's brother of Toronto, Mr. A.C. Price, Dr. A. Crich and Mr. and Mrs. Cornall.

THREE PEOPLE HURT IN TWO-CAR CRASH

Alex. Williams Of Beamsville And Toronto Men Badly Injured On Queen Elizabeth Way.

A two-car smash on the Queen Elizabeth Way three miles east of Grimsby on July 25th sent one man to hospital in serious condition and injured two others.

The injured are: Alex Williams, aged 75, West Ave., Beamsville, serious internal injuries; J. Rosenberg, aged 52, 397 Palmerston Blvd., Toronto, shock and lacerations to the face; David Rosenberg, a cousin, aged 53, 123 Ulster St., Toronto, lacerations to the throat and head. Two other passengers, Mrs. Alex Williams and Mrs. Sarah Rosenberg were not injured.

Mr. Williams was driving his new car across the highway at the Brickyard Crossing near Beamsville, according to police, when it was struck on the side by the To-

ESTIMATES SHOW THAT FRUIT CROP WILL BE A LARGE ONE

Peach Estimate Now Placed At 1,155,000 Bushels As Against 923,380 Bushels Last Year—Cherry Crop Showing An Increase Of 46 Per Cent Over 1947.

(The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Statistics Committee in co-operation with the Fruit Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, have prepared the following information on the condition of fruit and vegetable crops in Ontario as at July 15th, 1948.)

FRUIT—WESTERN ONTARIO
Apples—Total crop estimate as of July 15th is approximately 512,700 barrels as compared with 485,800 in 1947. This second preliminary estimate is only slightly less than reported in June. Snow, greening and spy prospects have lost ground somewhat in some areas. "Drop" was heavier than expected in Middlesex-Huron and Brant but satisfactory in other districts. Weather and overall moisture conditions have been satisfactory for good tree and fruit development with unusual freedom from wind or hail damage. Insect and fungus pests have been controlled in commercial orchards by regular and additional sprays. Despite some local area conditions favourable for such. Light harvesting of earlier varieties as "domestic cookers" will take place, the latter part of July.

Pears—A somewhat more promising total Pear crop is now indicated with Western Ontario total of 256,800 bushels or a decrease of 33% from 1947 final estimate, 153% decrease reported in June. Due to considerable increase in Norfolk, Elgin-Oxford, Brant, Peel-York and Georgian Bay and improved prospect in Niagara the Bartlett crop may equal the 1947 total of 85,680 bushels. Keiffer, however, indicate only a 150,000 bushel crop or 44% less than last year, with other varieties about the same. Conditions for fruit development have been good and the only local damage reported is as follows: some Buffalo Tree Hopper on young trees in Brant, Fire Blight in Peel-York and Ross Chas. GROWERS TO UNITE TO FIGHT GAP IN PRICES

M. M. Robinson, secretary of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association, predicted last weekend Ontario growers will soon unite in well-organized marketing groups and will produce on controlled acreages.

He said 600 farmers at Bradford, in the fertile Holland Marsh area, have already taken preliminary steps in forming an organization to prevent what they consider an unreasonable gap between retail prices and prices to growers.

COUNCIL WILL BUILD AN AUXILIARY SEWER

Made Necessary By Shallow-ness Of Melrose Avenue Sewer—Coun. Braid May Resign Chairmanship.

Town Council in a short special meeting on Wednesday night last, in connection with the sewer situation on Melrose Ave., decided that in order to give proper drainage to the four lots on the west end of Melrose an auxiliary sewer will have to be constructed.

Engineer Ure was instructed to prepare two sets of estimates, one for the new and smaller sewer to run east from the west side of the Aitchison survey and connect with the trunk sewer on Kingsway Boulevard and one to run north from Melrose to connect with the Main Street sewer.

Police matters also came up for discussion but council took no action regarding the hiring of a third policeman which led Councillor James Braid to give notice that at the next regular meeting of council he would resign his chairmanship of the Police Committee unless council did take action.

PEACH PRICE TO BE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Fruit growers will not receive any more for their peaches this year than the amount set for 1947. This was the decision reached last Thursday when the Peach Growers' Marketing Board met at the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton.

Last year the prices set were: Jubilee variety, $100 a ton; Elberta $90 a ton, and B grade $85 a ton.

GRIMSBY MAN HURT

Ernest Thorne, 27, of Grimsby, was painfully injured in an automobile accident on Lundy's Lane yesterday only a few minutes after he entered the vehicle. He is now in the Greater Niagara General Hospital suffering from shock and abrasions to the head, left leg and arm.

WILL PRACTICE HERE

John M. King, formerly of Toronto, graduated from Osgoode Hall Law School in 1944, was called to the Ontario Bar in September of the following year, and is a member of the Canadian Bar Association. He has been associated with a leading insurance firm since 1945, specializing in its estates planning and taxation fields. Mr. King is now returning to private practice of law and has established his office in Grimsby at 51 Main Street West.

WEEKEND ACCIDENTS IN THE FRUIT BELT

One Motorist Pinned Beneath His Car When He Ran Into A Group Of Parked Motor-Cycles.

Several persons were injured in a series of traffic accidents in the Fruit Belt over the weekend. David Dickerson, 17, of R.R. 2, Beamsville, was admitted to Hamilton General Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull, and Harvey Hill, 18, Grimsby, was removed to his home with cuts and bruises after their car, said by police to have been owned by Dickerson and driven by Hill, crashed into a tree on No. 8 Highway, on Saturday.

Flipped in his car when it overturned beside the Queen Elizabeth Way after crashing into a group of parked motor-cycles. Harold MacNeil, 34, of Crystal Beach and Toronto, suffered lacerations and a severe shaking up on Saturday evening. His wife and two other passengers, Reno Merello, of Vancouver, and Clarence Perrot, Toronto, escaped with a shaking up. Police said that MacNeil's car went off the pavement at a spot where a party of five motor-cycle riders were resting their machines parked well off the roadway. One cycle, owned by Samuel Anderman, of (Continued on page 5)

WELLAND MAN HEADS ALL CANADIAN LIONS

Mr. Whitaker was president of the Welland Lions Club in 1939 and 1940; he became deputy district governor in 1943, and district governor in 1944.

In 1946 he was given the permanent appointment of international councillor, and was also selected as Canadian representative on the board of international relations.

In 1947 he went to Central America in this capacity, and also attended meetings of the UN.

Also honored at the recent convention in New York was Walter C. Fisher, of Queenston, who became first vice president of the Lions International.

BUSINESS DEAL WILL AMALGAMATE STORES

An important business deal was completed last week when Stedman Bros. who operate the five-cent to one dollar store next to the Post Office, purchased the five-cent to five dollar business owned for some years past by Miss Elsie Drury.

We understand that both stores will continue to operate until Christmas when extensive alterations will be made to the Hawke block and the two stocks will be amalgamated and the Stedman business carried on in that location.

U.S. APPLE CROP

The National Apple Institute has estimated the 1948 apple crop in the United States at 101 million bushels, which although about the average of the past five years, is nearly 11 million bushels less than in 1947.

Sewers, Watermains And Sidewalks On Aitchison Survey Are Entirely Paid For By Each Frontage Owner—Under The Local Improvement Act Recently Passed Bylaws Cannot Now Be Changed.

A large delegation of property owners from the Aitchison survey waited upon Town Council in special session on Friday night (July 23rd) to present the much discussed contentious question of assessments on sewers, watermains and sidewalks recently constructed on the survey.

Town Solicitor Seymour and Engineer Ure were present and the arguments were prolonged and sometimes quite heated. A surprise was sprung on some members of council by Earl J. Marsh, when he brought out the fact that the property owners were not paying for the construction work on a basis of 80-20 and 80-15 for the work done in front of each property but were actually paying 100 per cent. Mr. Seymour informed council that there was nothing that they could do to change the percentages or the bylaws as regards sewers and watermains but that there was a possibility that changes could be made regarding sidewalks upon application to the Municipal Board.

At the time the construction bylaws were drawn up the percentages upon which the work would be assessed should have been incorporated in the bylaw but this was not done as council had not de-

NEW MARKETING SCHEME FOR DISTRICT GRAPES

Under The Plan A Marketing Board Would Handle All The Crop Except What Went To The Wineries.

Lincoln, Welland, Wentworth Counties and Nelson Township in Halton County constitute the area to be included in the fresh grape marketing scheme being planned by a growers' committee under the auspices of the Niagara Fruit Growers' Association.

This was made known by Ernest Culp, chairman of the committee, in reporting action taken by the committee at a meeting at the agricultural building, St. Catharines. A provisional board was appointed to be known as the Fresh Grape Marketing Board, and a draft of the marketing scheme was submitted by Frank Perkins of the Marketing Board, Toronto, who was present at the meeting. Eight directors were named to the board including Gordon Hunter, Niagara Township; W. C. Nickerson, Grantham; Ernest Culp, Lincoln; John Prudhomme, Clinton; J. A. Biggar, North Grimsby; H. Kilman, Welland; and Joseph Bartley, Nelson Township.

Proposals made by the board include a levy of one half of one per cent of grapes sold on the fresh fruit market. A proposal was also (Continued on Page 9)

TAKING A RIDE

THROUGH THE FRUIT DISTRICT ON "THE FLYING INDEPENDENT"

Last Spring The Independent decided that owing to the poor postal service out of Grimsby that it was high time to do something about giving the readers of the paper at Grimsby Beach and Beamsville a faster and better service.

Consequently a motorized delivery service of "Lincoln's Leading Weekly" to these two points every Thursday morning was inaugurated and has worked out very satisfactorily.

Last Thursday morning the Editor decided to make the trip with the driver. Talk about high speed delivery. The flying newspaper trucks of The Globe and Mail and The Hamilton Spectator have nothing on The Independent delivery service.

Sharp at 10 o'clock The Independent's big Dodge coupe with "Blondie" Gale at the helm left from in front of the office. First stop was at Dowling's grocery, corner of Depot and John street. Then over the tracks to the Queen Elizabeth. "Blondie" gave the big wagon the gun, the wind got under the mudguards and we zoomed through the air like one of these new jet propelled planes. Zing! We are in front of the Post Office at Grimsby Beach. Out goes a mail bag full of paid-up subscribers papers and a bundle of papers for counter sales.

Next stop at the junction of Park Road and No. 8 Highway where a big bundle of counter sales papers were buried off at Nick's Lunch. Then down the highway to the West End grocery on the outskirts of Beamsville where another big bundle of "The People's Paper" was thrown overboard.

Beamsville next stop. First a bundle was left at Hoffman's store and then another bundle at Mountain's store and then a big mail bag at the Post Office.

Back up No. 8 Highway and the Editor was at his desk before 10.30. This service is six hours faster than by train.

Just another example of how The Independent is trying to build up the Fruit Belt.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS!

"No civilized country in the world was less burdened with taxes than Canada West at this period. A small direct tax on property, levied by the district courts of session, and not amounting to $15,000 for the whole country, sufficed for all local expenses. There was no poor rate, no capitation tax, no tithes, or ecclesiastical rates of any kind. Instead of a road tax, a few days' statute labour annually sufficed. Nowhere did the working man find the products of his labour so little diminished by exactions of any kind. Canada West literally teemed with abundance, while its people, unlike the early French and Americans, had nothing to fear from the red man, and enjoyed the increase of the earth in peace."

Wake up! This is an excerpt from McMullen's History of Canada.

WHO PAYS?

There was a threat of a railway strike a few days ago. It was settled, as everybody expected it would be. No one has ever yet devised a way of settling a strike upon any basis of reason provided the strength of the union is such that it may stop the whole economic machinery of the nation.

The only thing which stands between the people of Canada and starvation is the wisdom of those who control the most powerful of all monopolies, the railway and the miners' unions.

There is, however, an economic law and if we let this economic law function it will prevent in the long run, any group, no matter how powerful, from destroying the economic life of the country.

Wages and salaries are a part of costs, as costs increase prices rise, the result is that the share going to each group remains fairly constant over a long period of time. Real wages constitute a fixed proportion of total production.

The only thing is to increase freight rates to a point which will enable the railways to meet the increased wage payment; then, in course of time, prices rise throughout the whole nation, the cost of living is increased and what the workers gain in wages they lose in the cost of living, but it makes them happy and who wants to deny them their little joke.

The joke will not last, some day prices will fall, we will have a depression and probably fifty or sixty thousand railway men will be unemployed—the joke will be on them. They, in the end, must pay.

YOU'RE SPENDING YOUR OWN MONEY

So universal is the belief that Government is something else than ourselves, that we are easily convinced that adding to the governmental services and securities is a sure way of getting something for nothing.

The small man, whom the government has been quick to release from the tax on income that he can see and feel, quite naturally thinks that when he demands something more, government can readily provide it. It can be provided he believes, by the simple practice of "soaking the rich."

That always has a pleasant sound to those who could not be considered in that group. So we are steadily following the course of meeting these plausible demands keeping the great majority satisfied, by the simple process of helping them to confuse themselves.

For anyone should know that we are all taxpayers and that new taxes must be imposed if we demand something more. Perhaps we can afford it today. We think we can, because we think that we are getting it for nothing, and that if all these social benefits were withheld we would be no better off.

That, of course, is delusion. We would be better off. Our dollar would buy more, for government spending and financing is one of the greatest inflationary forces in the world today. It is one of the major reasons why our cost of living is steadily rising.

We might be clearer on that point if so many of our taxes were not hidden, so that the customer can never know how much profit goes to the producer and how much taxation goes to the government.

Until the average man recognizes that, he will continue to believe that he can "soak the rich" and somehow in the process become affluent himself. He had better stop and think how he is helping to soak himself.

OF RIDING A BICYCLE

A bicycle is one of the most enjoyable possessions of any boy or girl. It gives healthful exercise as well as a means of getting around quickly and easily. But it is also a dangerous vehicle, particularly when ridden carelessly or without regard for the ordinary rules of caution and safety.

In the interests of protecting youngsters from painful and serious accidents involving their bikes the National Police Review has published some excellent rules which cyclists should clip out and remember. Here they are:

1. Never ride two on a bicycle; a passenger on the crossbar of a bicycle cuts off 75 per cent of the cyclist's vision.

2. Pedestrians always have the right-of-way.

3. Always obey traffic signs and signals. Stop at cross streets.

4. Keep bicycles in good repair by giving the chain, brakes, lights, spokes and tires a weekly check-up. Look out for loose handle-grips.

5. When riding with other cyclists, ride carefully and in single file.

6. Never zig-zag, race or do stunts on a street.

7. Use the hand signals to show motorists behind which way cyclist is turning.

8. For night riding, be certain to have good lamps and reflectors. A good idea is to wear a white shirt or sweater to make you more visible in the dark.

WHIFF APOLOGIES

Question for Will Shakespeare: Would a newspaper by any other name than the Daily Oklahoman smell as sweet? Doubtless it would if it tried to be as accommodating to a perfume advertiser.

The Daily Oklahoman mixed a certain perfume with its ink when printing an "ad" of said amellifluous fluid. The idea was to catch the nose along with the eye, to make the printed word more eloquent, or amelloquent, than it had yet aspired to be.

As intended, the edition carrying the advertisement wafted scent through streetcars, around news vendors' counters, and in thousands of living rooms. Woman readers considered lining the bureau drawers with the ow Dainty Oklahoman instead of stuffing little bags of lavender among the contents, and of carrying its exquisite pages about with them instead of perfumed handkerchiefs.

New fields, both for scent and newspapers, seemed opening for conquest. And that may yet be. But for the moment it is more probable that readers of America's most fragrantly fragrant newspaper will get enough even of such a good thing as the advertised perfume. For, alas! the pressman mixed the perfume with the main supply of the paper's ink, and the subsequent issues are all something to be sniffed at. It is said that in Oklahoma these days they are singing Ben Jonson with a new wrinkle—around the nose:

I scent thee late a rosy wreath.
But thou ther'on didn't only breathe
And scented it back to me.
Scents when it grows and smells, I swear,
More of the Daily Oklahoman than thee.

CORRECTIVE FORCES

Human society has its defects and weaknesses, but there are certain forces that work constantly for improvement and which have a tendency to correct defects when these become too serious.

Human sympathy has had a tremendous development, and it is constantly trying to relieve distress and suffering and poverty, and give people better opportunities in life.

If public opinion goes too far in some direction, the common sense of the people calls for a different idea, and the mistake is likely to be corrected. Thus we can believe that human society is constantly ascending into higher ground, and producing better life for the world.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

What does a person have to do to be considered a good neighbor? In former times in many country towns, many people acquired a reputation as good neighbors by doing such things as nursing people when they were sick, perhaps cutting up a woodpile, or taking care of the cows when the owner was laid up. Friendly services still show that a person has a big heart, and they cement friendship.

One sign of being a good neighbor that is highly valued in these times, is an effort to keep one's home place in good condition, to keep the buildings looking well, and the grounds in attractive condition. A place so

Chief difference between love and politics is in the latter game more people get fooled.

Observation of the past three weeks makes me wonder if the Town Council is going to present, on behalf of the citizens, a new set of tires for the car of the chairman of the Board of Works, Doug Scott has certainly been doing a lot of mileage on behalf of the people of Grimsby and I can see no reason why he should do it at his own expense unless it raises the tax rate eight to ten mills.

THROCKMORTON PAY HEED

When red hot mamma Sophie Tucker was young her mother started her on an insurance scheme at ten cents a week.

Later Sophie put in an accident claim and increased her payments until she was paying thousands.

For 40 years she paid but never put in a claim until she broke a bone in her foot a few months ago.

While the layoff was costing her $3,000 a week, she was paid at the rate of $30 a week because she was classed as "a bartender or waitress."

STRAWBERRY MILK SHAKES

Somebody has suggested that it may be possible to produce natural chocolate milk by feeding cows cocoa with their grain rations.

The grief that follows feeding turnips to milking cows makes this sound high probable. It used to be one of the major problems on the farm to find out how to feed cows turnips without having the better smell turnip. A farmer's wife always sniffed the churn far more suspiciously than a chubman's wife sniffed his breath—and nine times out of ten she caught the farmer in the guilty act of feeding turnips.

However, if the chocolate milk idea is successful, why not feed the cows fresh strawberries and produce strawberry milk shakes?

kept is an asset in a neighbourhood, and it makes the places near it more valuable.

A TASK

To be honest, to be kind—to earn a little and to spend a little less—to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence—to renounce when that shall be necessary and not be embittered—to keep a few friends but these without capitulation—above all, on the same grim condition, to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

GENERAL STORE HUB OF LIFE IN EVERY RURAL COMMUNITY

(Tillsonburg News)

Being the owner of a country store is not an occupation, but a lifelong vocation. The News learned from an owner of such a store this week. It has become a tradition for each family member of these stores to work in them, as one stated, as soon as he can walk. Many of the stores are now operated by the grandsons of the man who started them.

It is a long hard day, that is the day most country merchants wake up to, for they usually open the doors of the store at seven o'clock in the winter months, and the summer sees the doors open at six o'clock. Their busiest period is in the morning, when the farmers stop at the store to "stock up" on their way to and from the milk receiving depots, usually located near the store. Unlike town grocery stores, the stores stay open until 6:30 in the evening, and usually can be found open at least two evenings during the week.

However, life is somewhat easier than in their grandfather's and father's day, for 30 years ago or less, the store would be open every evening of the week until midnight, and sometimes later. For "the store" as most rural people state, is their community centre, radio station, both receiving and broadcasting and post office.

In the winter the farmers gather to reminisce on the happenings of past years, and to predict prices of crops for the coming year. If there is trouble ahead in the community, the most logical place to get the details is at the country store.

In the summer the store is the place where a cold drink can be had on the way home from helping a friend, and where the baseball game can be heard. Most stores in the district adhere to the "hat pool" form of betting when hockey and baseball games are being played. Men gather for miles around to put their feet on the stove, and await the outcome.

In one store in the district, the travellers who sell their merchandise to the owner of the store in the weekly or monthly calls, also adhere to the tradition. For years it has been their habit to play a game of cribbage or euchre before completing their business. A table is always in evidence for their games, and there is always time for an hour or two of recreation. Since the hours are long, most of the merchants include a little time for recreation, joking with their patrons or helping them when they need it.

In past years, before the packaging of foods for sale, much of the foodstuffs were sold in bulk from large barrels set in the middle of the store. Barrels of syrup, pickles, cookies, and crackers were an everyday occurrence, but sugar has always been sold in the smaller packages, it was learned.

Another change made in most of the stores in the past years is the spacing of merchandise into different departments. As distances are so great in the country, the storekeeper must keep a supply of everything, making it a grocery store, drug store, drygoods store, and hardware store. In past years these commodities were placed side by side, or often intermingled. One woman stated that it was always a mystery to her as a child that the storekeeper could always lay his hands on the desired article immediately, "as all country storekeepers are able to do."

Before the advent of the automobile, the country store would take orders for groceries and deliver them by horse and cart to the distant farms. It was also necessary in those days to bring much of their merchandise from the cities with the same horse and cart.

In some stores, this delivery service was enlarged by a travelling van, which served the community by taking all manner of merchandise to the farm homes making a regular call once every two or three weeks. These trips would usually take two or three days. The driver visiting every farm on the road. At night he would be "put up" by a friendly farmer, continuing on his route in the morning. By the end of the trip, his merchandise was gone, but the wagon was not empty. Instead, he had another load of foodstuffs given in return for those he had for sale. He would return home with eggs, syrup, butter, and other commodities. The wagon included not only a supply of foodstuffs, but small hardware articles, bolts of dry goods, and other small items stocked in the larger "home port."

The store in those days was also the depot where products were deposited for shipment to other countries or other parts of Canada. One store in the district used to export large quantities of dried apples.

Another long forgotten feature of the country store is the hanging of fowl, in cold weather, from the roof of the verandah of the store.

Today, the country store, although not stocking as much of the merchandise as in former days, is still the hub of the community. When automobiles became common, the storekeeper found that his patrons journeyed to the cities for their furniture, chinaware, and other household effects. However, they still visit the little store in the village for their food necessities, wash-tubs, paint, and the odd roll of wallpaper.

A LITTLE OLD LADY

A little old lady is going home.
Back to the heaven from whence she came Nigh on a hundred years ago.

A small pink baby without a name
Or a stitch to her back, or a smatch of hair,
But they loved her and welcomed her sweetly there.

To a backwoods cabin of logs and moss
In Crumake township, up by the church
Where the corduroy road went through the swamp:

There in a clearing of oak and birch
Where the blue jays came and the chickadees
Took up housekeeping in a tree.

And drifting across her mind there gleamed
A hundred pictures of long ago.
Her lover back from the Fenian Raid,
A lilac bush that she coaxed to grow,
A huskin' bee in a corny loft,
Her baby's body so warm and soft;

The new big house on the Kingston Road,
The thrill of the stage-coach going by
The old light blinking at Premier's Point,
Winking away like a friendly eye
Warning the sailors; an off-shore breeze
Crossing a mug through the apple trees.

Her old heart beats like a timid bird's
As her fingers pluck at the tuffed spread,
And Time runs out like a quiet tide
For the old lady upon her bed,
Living again through a hundred years,
The last brave one of the pioneers.

"Old at 40, 50, 60?"

Forget your age! Thousands are living at 70, 75, 80, 90, and even 100 years old. You can too! The secret is in the way you live. You must eat right, sleep right, and keep your mind and body active. This is the only way to live long and well.

THE GRIMSBY INDEPENDENT

A few of the hundreds of thousands of signs that guide and protect highway travelers in Ontario. The signs are posted, maintained and repaired by the operation of 30 sign shops throughout the province. Most of the caution type signs are treated with material that reflects the light, and makes the signs clearly discernible at night. Posts that mark the edge of road at dangerous turns or ditches are also reflectorized.

White lines that warn the motorist when he must stay in his own lane of traffic and when he may safely pass are used extensively on Ontario's highways at curves and hills. The rule is: never cross over a solid line unless a broken line runs parallel to it on your side of the road—and then only if oncoming traffic is far enough away. Broken lines alone may be crossed if oncoming traffic warrants such a move.

SIGNS HELP KEEP HOLIDAY TRAFFIC MOVING SAFELY ON ONTARIO ROADS

Down through the ages signs have played a vital role in guiding and protecting man on his journeys. Signs in the heavens charted his ships' courses. Signs chipped in trees marked his crude trails. Signs hewn in rock told the story of his travels.

Signs have increased in importance with the growth of civilization. Today, one of their most important uses is to help make motor vehicle travel safe and simple. Officials of the Department of Highways of Ontario estimate that there are over 300,000 signs in constant use throughout the vast network of highways in the province. Twenty sign shops, established in strategic centres, keep them at peak efficiency, with repairs and replacements effected wherever and whenever necessary.

All highway signs, even those not strictly of a cautionary type, contribute to safe driving by permitting the motorist to give full attention to his driving instead of worrying whether or not he is on the right road and going the right direction. Visiting motorists in particular appreciate the distinct markings of this province's highways that enable them to travel to their destination without confusion and loss of time.

To illustrate, let's follow the route of Mr. and Mrs. John Average, American tourists along one of Ontario's main highways. Highway number signs, in the form of shields surmounted by the King's crown, posted at frequent intervals along the way, reassure the travellers that they are on the right road. At intersections, these signs display an arrow or arrows that clearly designate direction. As they come to a cross road, in the vicinity of a community, they notice a group of "finger board" signs, each bearing the name of a city, town or village and the distance to each, with a "finger" pointing the proper route.

Mr. Average is pleased that he can proceed at a reasonable speed without undue worry about sudden turns or twists in the road; for all of these are indicated within a safe distance by curved arrows that show approximately the degree of twist or turn. His speed is governed by highway signs that give the legal maximum speed. He is protected at intersections by large stop signs and (or) signal lights, and at railway crossings by warning signs 500 feet from the railway.

His driving conduct on black highways is governed by white lines painted on the road. These tell him clearly when he can safely pass the car ahead. He may not cross a solid white line but he may cross a broken white line where the break occurs on his side of the road and if the way is clear.

Mr. Average finds that his night driving is greatly facilitated because most of the caution signs are lit up by his headlights. A special reflecting material used by the Department of Highways makes the signs clearly visible after dark. Posts that mark the edge of the road at a dangerous turn or ditch are also reflectorized.

Ontario's highway signs are not alien to Mr. Average. They are much the same in design and colour to those he is accustomed to

OBEY THE RULE OF WHITE LINES

"When visibility is reduced to about 20 car lengths, a solid white line is painted in the centre of the road. This white line must not be crossed," says the Hon. George H. Donnelly, Ontario Minister of Highways. "Properly observed, the white line provides protection for drivers, travelling in either direction on curves and hills."

Broken white lines indicate the lanes of the highway, varying in number with the capacity of the roadway to carry single or multiple traffic streams. When there is no oncoming traffic to interfere, cars may pass normally.

On more heavily travelled highways, double centre lines are painted. A driver's behaviour is governed by the line on the near side. That is, when a broken line on hills or curves, a motorist may pass another car where the broken line is on his own side of the road—provided the highway ahead is clear of oncoming traffic for a safe distance. If, however, the solid or barrier line is on his side, the driver must remain on his side of this solid line.

At home, Mr. Average finds on the whole that motoring in Ontario is as pleasant and safe as engineering skill can make it. He knows that a great deal of experimental work is done before a sign is posted. And he appreciates the time, effort and money that is contributed towards his motoring pleasures.

"Signs and signals are great aids to safe driving," says Hon. George H. Donnelly, Minister of Highways. "They warn motorists of hazards ahead but they are of little use unless seen and obeyed."

ELECTIONS WERE GRIM IN EARLY DAYS GOVERNMENT WAS BOTH CIVIL AND MILITARY

Early elections in Ontario were exciting and sometimes grim affairs. Such records as have survived suggest that even a shooting or a stabbing affray was not uncommon.

In 1800 the government in the Ottawa District was mixed—civil and military. Except for the municipal council and for Parliament of fictions were appointed. This era of virtuous administration deteriorated somewhat as time went on.

The country was poor and the statutes were few. People were described as generally free from quarrels unless they indulged too freely in rum. Men would have blushed to offer or to receive a bribe.

When Mr. W. L. MacKenzie's election was twice voided and he was permitted to take his seat for Haldimand after the third election to the same Parliament, the cost to him for the three elections was only five dollars. The electors did not hesitate to turn against leaders who displeased them. When "Jamie" Johnston ran against the supporters of the Family Compact the Bytown voters elected him by a huge majority. Then he resigned his seat. Later when he thought to take it he was ejected from the House. The same electors by an overwhelming vote left him at home in his second election bid.

Voting sometimes lasted days. There were no secret ballots and each voter announced which candidate he wished to support. Often he would be set upon by his opponents. When Mr. Kinney opposed Captain Lyon in Carleton County for warden the election lasted one week. There was only one polling place in the country. This necessitated long trips over difficult roads and a week's entertainment for the camp followers. Open house was kept and bread, beef, cheese and drinks were free. The beverages were conveyed in punchbails and huge barrels. After gaining this election, Mr. Kinney gave a partial description of the polling. A couple of lines were "Tom Acres as cunning as any pot fox; The bread and cheese he locked up in a box."

One of the hottest election campaigns was that for the first representative for Bytown in the new legislature after the Union of Upper and Lower Canada in 1841. Nominally there were 800 voters but in reality only 90 could vote since many at that time lived in Ordance lands bought in 1823 and leased to them by Col. By. Only those who bought land from Nicholas Sparks or Theodore Bessner were entitled to vote.

Lord Sydenham, then Governor General, made it plain to the local electors that he was anxious to have Mr. Stewart Derbyshire, an outsider in the new Parliament. Mr. William Stewart, a local founder and candidate, bitterly resented the intrusion. At the close of the poll which took place on March 8 and 9, Mr. Derbyshire was declared elected "by a majority of 27 out of 81 votes with a reserve of 16."

The protests which arose were stated as follows: Under executive influence he was recommended and introduced to the inhabitants of Bytown. He refused to state where his property was situated which he declared his qualifications. The returning officers did not keep returning officers did not keep order, voters being threatened and prevented from coming to the poll. The returning officers reported votes contrary to the "er and spirit of the law and admitted the oath to persons in unqualified state. Voters weapons of and assaulted by the persons of Mr. Stewart Derbyshire.

At Confederation time laws as ed professor referred to as "a sub-Arelic lumber off con-verted by a royal man into a political exploit."

Some of the local political controversies of Sir John A. MacDon-ald's time have their counterparts today. When the Dominion govern-ment established the first Experi-mental Farm here much criticism was offered by the farmer elector-ate. It was felt that no practical farmer could adopt its procedures unless he had other income behind him.

A gentleman from Quebec said that after a visit to the palatial stables of the farm he had difficulty in making his horses enter his own poor establishment, even under a whip.

GRACEFUL BEACH COAT

By ALICE ALDEN

The designers and manufacturers of beach wear have done well by women this year, creating handsome togs that have dignity and grace. Celanese beach cloth is used for a handsome and practical beach coat. Beautifully tailored, the coat is cut on long lines, accented by contrasting white insets on either side of the square boxy back. The full straight sleeves are finished with small white cuffs.

There is nothing prettier than a garden wedding if the weatherman plays his part, but there are definite restrictions about the number of guests invited and clothes worn.

The weather is always an unknown quantity and it may be necessary, at the last moment, to move the wedding indoors. Therefore, it is wise to invite only as many guests as the house can accommodate.

The garden wedding cannot be formal unless a floor is laid, covering the grass, and an all-over marquee is put up, thus converting the garden into a room so that it becomes part of the house. Under these circumstances, the bride may wear formal white satin and the groom clothes in keeping it becomes a formal house wedding. But this is an expensive way of doing it.

In a real garden wedding, the bride wears white if she wishes, lace, organdy or any summer material. Without train, the dress may have a slight sweep of the back for gracefulness. She wears a fingertip veil, or large summer hat. Her informal bouquet is of garden flowers. Bridesmaids wear summery garden-party frocks with long skirts and large hats, perhaps with streamers down the back. Mothers of bride and groom wear long, summer dresses, too, and large hats or small flowered ones. Women guests may wear any summer afternoon costume, long or short.

The groom and his attendants, the fathers of bride and groom, and men guests wear plain white double-breasted suits, summer trousers, or dark coat with cream or light flannels, or gabardine trousers.

An attractive spot in the garden is chosen for the wedding party.
Wedding music usually has to come from within the house at a garden wedding. For those who can afford it, an orchestra may be hired for outdoors. Otherwise, a violin is most suitable to provide outdoor wedding music.

The ceremony is carried out in the manner of a church wedding except there are no seats for the guests. A single strip of carpet or canvas or two rows of garden markers with white ribbon stretched between mark the path for the wedding procession.

The minister comes from the house at the appointed time, followed by the groom and best man who take their place before him, the bride arriving a few minutes later on her father's right arm and preceded by her attendants.

Following the ceremony, bride, groom and wedding party turn and walk back to the house for the signing of the Register. When the happy couple emerges again, they, and the bride attendants, join the parents and line up so that the guests may offer their best wishes in the usual way.

Usually, at a garden wedding, refreshments are served indoors and toasts made there, with the guests free to wander in and out before and after.

QUESTIONS — ETIQUETTE — ANSWERS

Q. Mrs. C.A.B. Chatham: In Canada, we favour setting utensils on the table with tips to be used first placed on the outside, so that you work your way towards the plate as the meal progresses.

A. Miss L. S. Montreal: After enjoying a weekend in a friend's home, it is right to tip the maid. Either go to the kitchen before leaving and hand her the money saying, "Good-by, Ruth, and thank you" or put money in envelope, marked "For Ruth" and leave it on the dining room table.

Q. — If through pure accident and not carelessness you break an object in the home of a friend what should you do about it, besides apologize and express your regrets?

A. Send some flowers or a gift the next day. It isn't necessary to try to duplicate the article which has been broken.

Q. Why is the demi-tasse used for coffee? It seems an unsatisfactory cup of coffee to me when we have be-men among our dinner guests.

A. The demi-tasse originated as a dainty cup for the ladies who repaired to the drawing room for their coffee. It is not correctly served in the dining room but in drawing room or library after a formal dinner. So, if you like the larger cup of coffee that's the one to use and may be served either in dining or living-room.

Q. Is it ever correct to introduce the housemaid to a friend who calls?

A. Yes, indeed, why not? On the continent, where things are more formal, no one would think of introducing help to a guest. But in Canada it's different. The class system doesn't count for much when the girl in the kitchen says have lived at the farm on the next connection and attended the same school as you did as a child. However, don't make introductions in the living room. Ask your guest to step into the kitchen with you and make the introduction there. "Mrs. Doe, this is Mary, who has been with us two years" or some such phrase.

Miss A. L. London: Wedding invitations are sent out three weeks before the event and announcements are mailed the day of the wedding or day after.

Readers are invited to write Claire Wallace about their etiquette problems. Address: Claire Wallace, care of The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ontario. Replies will appear in this column.

SUGAR SAVES VITAMINS

Sugar is a vitamin-saver. In sweetened condensed milk, for example, low processing heats can be used so that vitamins, which would be destroyed at higher temperatures, are retained in the product.

Similarly, in fruit preservation, sugar syrup prevents the loss of vitamins by retarding oxidation. It is safe to say that without sugar the consumption of vitamin-rich cereals like oatmeal would decline, and that ice cream, which is an unusually valuable food, just wouldn't be continued in volume.

CONTINUATIONS

for in Georgian Bay.
Plums—Although some betterment is indicated since last report in Plums and Japanese varieties, Europeans show a further decrease and the total district estimate is now 201,380 bushels or a decrease of 25% from 1947 total. This total is made up of 11,515 bushels Japanese (25% decrease), 173,210 bushels Europeans (25% decrease), and 16,655 bushels Prunes (25% decrease). Fruit is sizing well with no serious insect or disease damage reported. Light harvesting of earliest varieties has started.

Peaches—Total Western Ontario estimate is now placed at 1,150,000 bushels compared to 923,380 bushels in 1947. Increase are anticipated in Niagara, Burlington and Brant districts, with no change in Essex-Kent, and decrease in Norfolk, Elgin, Middlesex and Lambton. Favourable conditions prevail for development and sizing is good, especially where necessary thinning has been done. Considerable Oriental Fruit Moth damage to twigs has been apparent in Niagara but D.D.T. sprays are being applied and it is hoped that fruit infestation will not be serious. Hail, wind or other damage has been negligible. Some early white-flesh varieties will be harvested before the end of the month.

Cherries—With sweet cherries harvesting nearing completion and sour past peak, a revision of first estimate is necessary and total cherry crop is now estimated at 172,575 bushels or an increase of 46% over 1947. Sweet cherries have yielded much better than anticipated and now appears equal to last year or about 45,000 bushels. However, previously reported increase in sour cherries has to be revised downward somewhat and is now about 127,000 bushels, or 72% increase over last year. Quantity and sizing of all fruit has been very good to date with very little splitting or other injury and trees generally appear healthy and vigorous.

Strawberries—With harvesting of crop completed in all producing areas except Northern Ontario and Head of Lakes the total crop estimate shows little change from June report—or 7,582,800 quarts, an overall increase of 24% from last year. Increases are reported from all districts except Northern Ontario where dry weather adversely affected the crop. Except for a few wet days which caused some condition defects in a few areas, the crop generally was of excellent quality and average yields in individual districts as reported all the way from 800 quarts to 9,000 quarts per acre. New plantings are making good growth except in a few districts where rainfall was insufficient.

Strawberry Beetle caused one light injury in localized area of Peel-York. In addition to any movement to the U.S.A. and Provinces, carlot shipments, most of which were processed, were made to points as far distant as Alta.

Raspberries—Total estimate is for crop of 2,170,150 qts, 80% larger than last year and a betterment over first estimate June. Weather conditions have been excellent for development good quality fruit except in some parts of the Niagara district where the Georgian Bay area wheridry weather has prevailed.

Grapes—There is no age since last report in total make of approximately 25,735 or practically the same as 1947. All districts report vines in excellent condition with fruit developing well.

lent condition with fruit developing well.
Blueberries—Due to hot dry weather in Head of Lakes area, the crop is not expected to be as heavy as first estimated but adequate rainfall should ensure a fair yield. First picking is expected about the last week in July and it is interesting to note that the main producing districts were not damaged by recent forest fires. In Northern Ontario the picking season is just starting and all reports point to a good crop in both Northern Ontario and Northern Quebec. There was general freedom from late frosts in these areas.

WEEKEND ACCIDENTS

Shakespeare was damaged, and Macchelli's car, valued at $450, was completely wrecked.

Andrew Korynicki, 58, of Grimsby Beach, was removed to his home with a fractured leg, the result of a mishap on the Queen Elizabeth Way. Police reported that the man, after alighting from a car, had apparently become confused and walked directly into the path of another, the driver of which had no chance to avert.

Westbound on the Queen Elizabeth on Sunday morning, a car in charge of Chester E. Walck, 21, of Sanborn, N.Y., crashed into the rear of a slower moving vehicle in charge of George Balaban, 50, of 196 Weir Street North, Hamilton. While none of the occupants was seriously injured, considerable property damage resulted.

RABBIT BREEDERS TO HOLD A BIG RALLY

Angora rabbit breeders have arranged on Sunday, August 8, a one-day educational rally, the first of its kind ever held in Ontario, at the home of George E. Fudge, Winona. Although held under the auspices of the Angora Rabbit Breeders' Association, all rabbit breeders, amateurs and professionals, are invited to attend. The breeding of rabbits in Ontario for food, skins and wool has developed into big business with many amateurs entering this profit making but specialized field. Breeders from not only Canada but from the United States will be in attendance at the rally.

Each person attending is requested to bring an adult rabbit and prominent judges will comment on the quality and commercial value of each animal. Demonstrations will be given showing electrical clipping, tattooing, plucking, different methods of killing, wool grading, spinning, and knitting. There will also be a display of angora knitted goods, gadgets, hutches and other accessories.

Interested Breeders

Among those present will be: Maurice B. Sixty, editor of the Angora Rabbit Magazine, of Buffalo; Earl J. Snyder, a wool buyer from Kent, Ohio; Charles Emmett, a rabbit judge, of Islington; Thomas Wragg, judge, of Oshawa; E. Elliot, breeder from Mount Hamilton; and M. Yates, secretary of the Dominion Rabbit and Cavy Breeders' Association, of Toronto.

An old-timer is the one who offers his seat to the lady. The modern man is the one who races a woman to a vacant seat.

A beauty parlour for men is being opened in Detroit. They will have to restore plenty of hair before giving some men a permanent.

IT'S A MAN'S WORLD

It's a man's world, all right. Just look at the difference in these descriptive words and phrases.

If a man doesn't marry, he's a "bachelor"—glamorous word. If a woman doesn't marry she's an "old maid."

When it's his night out he's "out with the boys." When it is her night out she's at a "hen party." What he hears at the office is "news." What she hears at a bridge party is "gossip."

If he runs the family he is "head of the house." If she runs it she "wears the pants in that family." If he is overly solicitous of her he is a "devoted husband." If she is overly solicitous of him he is "hen-pecked." If he keeps his eye on her at a party he is an "attentive husband." If she sticks close to him she is a "possessive wife."

In middle age he is "in the prime of life" or "at the peak of his career." At the same age she's "no spring chicken." If he is an easy spender he "does not deny his family anything." If she doesn't count the pennies she's "extravagant" or a "poor manager."

Gray hair gives him a distinguished look. If she has it, she's an old hag. If he hasn't any small talk he's "the quiet type." If she hasn't any she is "mousy."

It all depends on one thing—whether you're speaking of a man or a woman.

Hollywood is an unusual place. It is the only place where a marriage gets as much publicity as a sensational divorce.

ATKINSON-THOMPSON

In St. Andrew's Anglican church, Grimsby, Saturday, July 31st, at three o'clock, the wedding took place of Isabel Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Thompson of Kinburn, Ont., to Arthur John, son of Mrs. John Atkinson of Grimsby. Rev. E. A. Brooks officiated.

The bride, given away by her father, was dressed in white silk tulle with white picture hat and white accessories. She was attended by Mrs. Royce Chambers of Stoney Creek, dressed in powder blue crepe with white hat and white accessories. Mr. Royce Chambers of Stoney Creek, was best man.

Following the reception at Beechcroft, Grimsby, the bride couple left for a trip to points north. On their return they will reside in Grimsby.

SHERITT-DUCK

A very pretty wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. McLeod at St. John's Presbyterian Church at Grimsby, Ontario, July 24th, 1948, when Frances Irene, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edward Duck, of Grimsby, was united in marriage to Wesley Gordon Sheritt of Bartonville, Ont.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a white satin dress, with tulle of Swiss lace. Her long veil fell from a headpiece of satin, flowers set with pearls. She carried red roses and orange blossoms. Her attendants were Miss Jean Duck, maid of honor, wearing gold tulle, with matching headpiece and carrying a bouquet of summer flowers. Misses Dorothy and Marjorie Sheritt, sisters of the groom, wearing gowns of blue and pink sheer respectively, and carrying matching bouquets were the bridesmaids.

Mr. Milton McKinley was best man. Mr. Ronald Duck, Grimsby, and Mr. Raymond Sheritt, Hamilton, acted as ushers.

The ceremony was opened with Mr. Donald Hurst, St. Catharines singing "I Love You Truly" and during the signing of the register he sang "All Through The Year."

After the ceremony a reception was held for eighty-five guests at the bride's home, Grimsby, Ont. The bride's mother received the guests wearing a navy blue figured silk dress with a corsage of orchids. The groom's mother was groomed in navy blue crepe with gladioli corsage.

The bride travelled in a tulle gingham suit with grey accessories.

Guests were present from St. Catharines, Hamilton, Dundas, Fergus, Grimsby and Grimsby. After a rather trip to points north the happy couple will reside at Burlington, Ont.

DUVALL-ROBERTS

The marriage of Elva Jean Roberts and Herbert Earl Duvall was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, July 18, by Rev. E. A. Ebdace of Orono at the home of Mr. C. A. Kinner, King St. West, Orono.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tones of Orono, and the bridegroom is son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Duvall of Leask.

Mr. Len Nash played the wedding music and Miss Kay Elan sang the Lord's Prayer and Benediction. The floral arrangements included delphiniums in blue and white tones and pastel gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of ice blue velvet embroidered with scalloped sleeves and neckline. It was accented with a full scalloped petticoat and tiny bustle. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift. She wore a white bouquet and long gloves to match her dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Bernard Kennedy, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor. She was groomed in pale yellow cypress embroidery with hat and gloves to match. In the same style as the bride's, she wore a corsage of white-corned carnations.

Mr. Gerald Duvall, the bridegroom's brother, performed the duties of best man and Mr. Howard Tones, brother of the bride, was the usher.

At the reception the bride's mother received in a frill of pink and blue flowered mesh, a navy blue straw hat, navy blue accessories, and a corsage of dark cornflowers. The bridegroom's mother was in navy blue lace and sheer and her corsage was of pink roses. The couple left on a motoring honeymoon. The bride was wearing a two-piece suit and crownless hat of white pique, trimmed with navy blue taffeta. Her corsage was of dark roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Duvall will live at Orono on their return.

NOTE—Mrs. John W. Duvall of Livingstone Avenue is the grandmother of the groom and Mrs. Herbert Glover of Fruitland is an aunt.—Ed.

A HAPPY WELCOME

The reception held at the home of Rev. J. P. and Mrs. McLeod on July 28th, was a most successful and happy affair. The congregation of St. John's Presbyterian Church and their friends turned out in large numbers to officially welcome the new minister and his wife.

The members of St. John's Ladies' Aid were in charge of the arrangements.

UNION SERVICES

Rev. George McLean of the Baptist Church will be in charge of the union services of the United and Baptist Churches during the month of August. The morning services will be held in the United Church and the evening ones in the Baptist Church.

During the morning services Mr. McLean will give a series of five short talks to the Junior members of the congregations on the subject "Five Lessons From A Tea Cost Piece."

During the morning services he will also discuss the statement of Jesus that his followers are "The Salt of the Earth," and at the evening services the companion statement that his followers are "The Light of the World."

All the services will be brief and bright and every effort will be made to make them helpful to all who attend.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lorne Lindemann announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Isabel, to Mr. Robert Harle Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Martin, of Vineland Station, the marriage to take place August 21st, in St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, at 7 o'clock, in the evening.

Shower

Mr. and Mrs. James Godin, who were married recently, were entertained at a shower given in their honour, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emley.

A very pleasant evening was spent, after which a dainty lunch was served for thirty-five friends of the popular young couple, and at the conclusion the bride and groom were presented with a gaily decorated basket filled with many useful gifts.

Guests were present from Toronto, St. Catharines, Hurville and Grimsby.

A look of relief lightened the recruit's face as he said: "No? You go first—I'll go second!"

DOLLAR LIKE ELASTIC HAS LOST STRETCH

Pointing out in their save food campaign the sad state of the "stretchability" of the present Canadian food dollar, the Canadian Association of Consumers compares food bought with this same dollar in 1937 and 1948.

In 1937 the Canadian housewife could barely carry home the groceries purchased with her dollar bill. These might include:

1 lb. of butter	$.30
1/2 qts. of milk	.20
2 loaves of bread	.20
1/2 lb. of bacon	.17
1 peck of potatoes	.15
	$1.02

In 1948, our housewife tucks jauntily under one arm:

1 lb. of butter	$.75
2 qts. of milk	.36
	$1.09

NATURE MIXED UP

(Niagara Advance)

On the estate of Mrs. E. H. Letchworth was found this week an interesting freak of nature. Probably due to pollination, a patch of potato vines is producing tomatoes. Where the blossoms were on the potato plants, numerous small green tomatoes have been found ranging in size from a nickel to a half dollar. The little tomatoes are perfectly formed and contain many seeds, but they lack the tomato odour.

It is not known whether the fruit will mature, but it is an odd sight to see tomatoes hanging on the potato vines.

NOTE—The "little tomatoes" are probably potato seeds. It is not uncommon for potato blossoms to produce seed, although it usually drops off before being noticed. New varieties of potatoes may be originated from these seeds.—Ed.

MINISTER APPLIES PARABLE OF THE TALENTS

Rev. Gordon Smyth, shown above addressing his congregation at United Church in Haliburton, Ont., is applying parable of the talents in an effort to speed the raising of $3,000 for the church's renovation fund by June 28. About 100 members of his congregation each received a $3 bill as they left an evening service recently. Attached to the bill were two papers, one a summary of the parable and explanation of the way the church's fund was to be used, and the other a list of suggestions for increasing the $3. "It is not a 'smart Alex' trick but a venture of faith," said Rev. Smyth. "The money was borrowed from the bank in the minister's name."

ronto car driven by J. Romberg. The left side of the car was driven across to the right hand side, and the car is a total wreck. The Romberg car damage is estimated at $700.

Provincial Constable Gordon Collins investigated the accident. Mr. Williams was removed to the Hamilton General Hospital, where no report of his condition is available. The other injured were treated in Grimsby. Mrs. Williams was riding in her husband's car and the others were all in the Romberg car.

NO SAMPLE OF LAKE

ing heavily polluted, but in water used for bathing as long as the bacilli are not found in less than 1 cc. of water we consider it safe. Regardless of the laboratory finding, water known to be heavily polluted by sewage is not safe for bathing purposes. Besides the danger of typhoid, it may cause infection in the nose, ears or eyes.

The inspectors of the Unit are continually taking samples of the lake water, and further samples are taken where the water previously tested has been of poor quality.

Colon bacilli are bacteria which normally inhabit the intestinal tract of humans and animals, and are passed out with the discharges from the body. They, of themselves, do not prove that the water contains disease producing bacteria, but serve rather as a warning that dangerous germs such as typhoid etc. may be present. When these germs are present colon bacilli always accompany them, usually in large numbers. It is true, however, colon bacilli may also occur when no disease germs are present. There is no laboratory test which will distinguish between colon bacilli of humans and that of animals.

It is not the intention of the Unit to try to prevent swimming anywhere in Lake Ontario. If consistently the beach shows heavy contamination, a placard will be put up and the bathers using it do so at their own risk. We do, however, stress the fact that those in swimming should not get polluted water in the mouth, the ears, the nose or the eyes.

In order to make it easier for your readers we are grading the water at the beaches depending upon the smallest amount of water in which colon bacilli have been found by the laboratory. If found in a 1 cc. of water or less the grade will be unsafe; if in 1 cc. it will be classed questionable; if above this it will be classed safe. It may seem inconsistent to your readers that the results will change from time to time depending on the weather conditions. No interpretation should be made on one sample, but on repeated ones.

Yours very truly,
D. V. Curry, M. D., Director.

UKRAINIAN ORTHODOX

The luncheon hall was decorated with red, white and blue of the Canadian flag and gold of the Ukrainian national flag. The five long tables plus the head table were able to seat about two hundred and fifty people so that more than one sitting was required to accommodate all the guests.

The first major event of the afternoon was an appeal for funds to help pay off the mortgage on the church. This was made by Mr. Oryshak of Toronto. Mr. Oryshak spoke in Ukrainian so that your reporter who did not have an interpreter at the time was not able to understand his words but his spirit was well understood for he moved his audience to an on the spot cash contribution of more than twelve hundred dollars.

Mr. Stepany of Grimsby introduced Miss Romachich who was the hostess for the afternoon and who was to introduce the English-speaking guests. Miss Romachich spoke briefly in English advocating a more unified church with less racial distinction and more Christian fellowship. She then introduced Mr. H. C. Jeffries who engineered the sale of the church. Mr. Jeffries expressed his pleasure at being present and brought greetings and best wishes from Mr. T. L. Dymond and Rev. A. Leonard Griffith of the United Church who could not be present. He then extended his own congratulations and those of the church and offered co-operation in all matters.

Miss Romachich then introduced Rev. E. A. Brooks of St. Andrew's church who brought greetings and blessings from his own church and echoed Miss Romachich's wish for a closer union of all Christendom. Mr. Brooks emphasized the contribution which the Orthodox church could make to such a union.

The next speaker was Rev. McLeod who stressed the need for co-operation between those of different racial origin but of the same religious idealism in order to produce the inspiration for world peace so badly needed by such bodies as the one meeting at Lake Success.

Rev. Samets of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of Toronto spoke briefly of his early life and training in Canada and was warm in his appreciation of the opportunities offered him in this country. Dr. Crichton then brought the greetings of the Grimsby Lions Club. This ended the English-speaking section of the programme and since the rest was to be conducted in the native tongue of the church the English-speaking guests retired.

The remainder of the afternoon was taken up with greetings of other churches brought by their representatives. The following gentlemen all extended in their own way congratulations on behalf of their own church: Mr. Kozak—Niagara Falls, Mrs. Kozak—head of the Women's Organization in Toronto, Mr. Trach of Windsor, Mr. Drapowsky of Waterford, Mr. Tashliw of Brantford, and Mr. Vindisak of St. Catharines.

Mr. Kusy and Mr. Bley, both recent immigrants to this country, told of the conditions and of some of their own experiences in the old country. They deplored the hardships being suffered by their own people at the present time.

The afternoon ended with the messages of Rev. Alan of Oshawa and Rev. Zaporoskiuk of Windsor who brought congratulations and blessings from their own churches.

In the evening there was held a beautiful concert featuring a choir from the Hamilton church and the choir of the Grimsby Church. Our thanks to Miss Albina Klovsk for her invaluable aid in interpreting the speeches to us.

NEW MARKETING

sides that the fruit be handled by licensed dealers only, an that a negotiating committee of three growers and three dealers be set up to control prices as well as general terms and conditions of sale. The marketing board, Mr. Culp revealed, is securing lists of all the grape growers in the area, and ballots will be mailed, probably early next week, giving the growers an opportunity of expressing either their approval or their disapproval of the scheme.

The committee is concerned that the plan be in operation to handle this year's crop, because of an intimation regarding the possibility of a cut in the tonnage of grapes which will be purchased by the wineries this year.

Since two thirds of the growers eligible to vote on the matter must assent to the plan before it can be put into effect, the board is anxious to secure the full co-operation of the grower in filling in and returning the ballots. Failure to return the ballots properly marked may necessitate a tedious individual canvass of growers by the board, with a resulting delay in getting the scheme into action. Growers are also urged to return the ballots promptly, two weeks being the limit allowed for their return.

FRENCH FRUIT

French fruit production has increased from 550,000 tons in 1939 to 1,100,000 in 1947. Over the past 30 years, the average yearly increase was 1.75 per cent in France, as compared with an increase of 3.55 per cent in the United States. Of the total world fruit crop of 50 million tons, the United States produces 10 to 14 million tons, and France only about a million. French production of pears, table grapes and peaches all show increases, but production of chestnuts, an important crop in 1913 when 300,000 tons were produced, has now declined to 100,000 tons.

Greater Prosperity in Town and Country

Modern Massey-Harris Machines Increase Output per Man and give the Farmers Greater Buying Power

On Saturday nights all across Canada, the shopping centres of towns and smaller cities are crowded with farm automobiles and farm people. Side by side, with the town dwellers, farm people buy all kinds of consumer goods, from breakfast goods to broadloom rugs, from canned goods to cosmetics, from radios to refrigerators.

Time was when farm buying was more limited, when farmhouse furnishings were more meagre. The change is due directly to the increase in the buying power of farm families. The reduction in operating costs and increased output per man effected by modern farm machinery gives farm families today more income from their operations in supplying agricultural products for home and export markets and more money for both the necessities and luxuries of life. Greater prosperity for all.

Massey-Harris, builders of farm implements for over one hundred years, has contributed in no small measure to this progress through the development of modern labor-saving farm machinery.

THE OLD AND THE NEW IN FLYING

ELEVEN YEARS IN AVIATION
—It is a far cry from the planes used when Trans-Canada Air Lines first began operations in 1937 to the huge 49-passenger, pressurized North Star which officially entered transcontinental service on June 1. When TCA began transcontinental operations in April, 1937, the Lockheed 10-passenger, shown below, was sufficient to meet traffic demands. Air travel has grown to such an extent in the past 11 years that the Lockheed have been replaced with the powerful four-engine North Star shown at top. It is Canada's largest and fastest plane and holds a transcontinental speed record. On June 1 the new TCA plane also entered inter-city and trans-Atlantic services.

termined any percentage basis nor had they notified the legal firm that the bylaws were to contain such information, therefore the bylaws were drawn in accordance with the Local Improvement Act, and passed by council. Now there is nothing that the council can do to change the bylaws.

Engineer Ure in making his assessments at the completion of the work received no instructions from the council as to percentages so he based them upon 50-15 basis as provided for in the Act.

Earl J. Marsh in addressing council said: "Mr. Mayor you will recall that we went to Toronto to interview the Municipal Board. We came away with the thought that it was possible to make these changes upon a three-quarter vote of the entire council. We were told that changes could be made regarding sewers, watermains and sidewalks."

Mayor Smith—"Your statement is right, but we were also told to consult our lawyer. We suggested some names and mentioned Mr. Seymour and were told that he was the right man."

Benham—"On this council establishing or not rates for future construction?"

Seymour—"Yes, but some future council could change them."

Benham—"Would council embarrass itself by suggesting to the Engineer what rates for assessment should be set on each construction job?"

Seymour—"That is your right. The Local Improvement Act gives you that power. In Merritt all construction work is done and paid for by the Corporation as a whole."

Constable—"Did Mr. Ure have any special instructions as regard this work?"

Ure—"I had no special instructions. I just followed the Act."

Mayor—"I think that he has always acted according to the statute."

Marsh—"Quite right, Mr. Mayor, but he did not act according to precedent in this town especially with regard to watermains and sidewalks."

Lindenburgh—"We are not kicking so much about the sewer assessment but are about the watermains and sidewalks."

Benham—"Mr. Ure, if you received no special instructions you would follow the Act?"

Ure—"I would follow the Act."

Marsh—"I cannot see that there is anything that we can do about this matter except possibly as regards sidewalks."

Mowitt—"If we are going to upset all these things then what are we hiring lawyers and engineers for?"

Mr. Marsh brought out the fact that after the town deducted from the total cost the amount that inspections, drains and catch basins cost, then the ratepayer really pays 100 per cent for any installation in front of his own property. The 50-20 or 55-15 split is on the total amount before any deductions are made. Mr. Ure concurred with this statement. In other words the 50-20 or 55-15 is not the percentage after the town has deducted costs of certain items."

Benham—"What are we going to do for these people? I would like somebody to make a suggestion."

Marsh—"I do not think that any councillor or ratepayer ever thought but what these people would get the same treatment as the other people have received. I believe this bylaw can be changed and that is what we were told by the Municipal Board in Toronto. If these amendments stand then I believe we are building a barrier against the development of Grimsby. I am speaking now as regards sidewalks and watermains. Sewer costs are not so bad."

Benham—"If these ratepayers are going to pay these rates, then so far as this council is concerned the same rates will have to be charged on all construction work in other parts of the town."

Lindenburgh—"You have a bunch of veterans on that property and it is a good way to use them."

Coun. Scott—"The sewer laid on Melrose avenue is a 'bit shallow' to take care of the connection from the houses on the west end of the street. The sewer is six feet four inches deep."

Ure—"The lots are lower than the street level and as a result the house connection will not drain into it properly. I think that in any event the town is obligated to raise that sewer. Four lots are affected."

Harvey Shafer—"To be proper the sewer should be raised about 18 inches."

For some reason or other the sewer connection in the main sewer is on the bottom of the pipe.

Ure—"It would be possible to lay a small eight inch sewer across the backs of the lots to Kingsway Boulevard trunk sewer. It is faulty construction."

Council will look the situation over before making any decision on the matter.

Building permits totalling $33,150 were passed as follows:

S. Twiss, apartment alterations at 26 Elizabeth, $700.

Dr. R. T. Rogers, Roselyn Ave. residence, $5,700.

T. R. Platts, Melrose Ave. residence, $9,500.

Grimsby Meat Market, new sign, $30.

S. Benham, 81 Murray St., garage, $300.

Geo. W. Dewitt, Livingston Ave. residence, $7,250.

P. V. Smith, 8 Main E., new sign, $40.

J. N. Truman, 30 Murray St., garage, $100.

Mayor—"Do you wish to ask anything gentlemen as regard expropriation proceedings for land for the cemetery extension?"

Clerk—"I have three letters here regarding the matter."

Two of the land owners wrote council they did not wish to sell at $2000 an acre. The third owner wrote that he was willing to co-operate with council as he believed the extension was in the best interests of the community and would be willing to abide by what the authorities decided."

Benham—"It is very evident we are not going to get this land by negotiation."

Clerk—"You will have to have the land surveyed, then prepare a plan, then get the approval of the municipal board."

Coun. Constable gave notice of motion of the re-routing of buses on Main street, which will come up at next regular meeting.

Chairman of Police, Brind and Reeve Hewitt most emphatically told council that a third policeman had to be secured. That Chief Turner was overworked and that street fights and getting beyond his control. It was too much work at night for one man. In fact there should be two men on duty every night between the hours of 9.30 and 12.30. Council will go into the matter with the Chief immediately.

Postman Braves Fumes, Rescues Stricken Woman

WINS DOW AWARD

WILLIAM CAIRNS OF TORONTO, ONTARIO, carries young housewife from gas-filled house, then applies artificial respiration

Postman William Cairns was anxious to finish his rounds. Ordinarily he would have been through around noon but the heavy fumes made his task more difficult. When he came to the Sparks home on Westmoreland Avenue he opened the front door slightly, threw a parcel in and then started to rush on. But something stopped him. Opening the door again, he sniggered back from the heavy smell of illuminating gas.

FINDS UNCONSCIOUS WOMAN

Taking a big gulp of air he entered the house. Heading for the kitchen he found 19-year-old Mrs. Sparks on the floor — unconscious! He tried to pick her up but the gas began to make him feel sick... and he had to rush to the veranda for air. Entering the house again he managed to carry Mrs. Sparks almost to the door... but again he felt dizzy and had to go out to refill his lungs.

The third time he was successful in getting the woman outside. He placed her on the veranda floor, ran to tell the neighbours and please for help... and three minutes later the victim and applied artificial respiration until breath arrived to relieve him.

30 minutes later the young woman regained consciousness. For his unselfish and gallant actions we are proud to pay tribute to William Cairns of Toronto through the presentation of The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding humanitarian and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

The gas fumes were too much for the brave 17-year-old postman. Twice he staggered to the door, sick and dizzy, and tilted his lungs with fresh air.

Finally he got the unconscious young woman out to the veranda. Here he applied artificial respiration until breath arrived to revive the girl.

GOOD HEALTH TO YOU

THOSE DROWNING ACCIDENTS
HOW THEY CAN BE PREVENTED(By Dr. D. V. Currey, M.D.M., Lincoln Health Unit)

During the summer season it is appalling to hear of the number of drownings which occur in this country. Practically all of these deaths could be prevented if the vacationists and people living near water would avoid taking unnecessary risks, if all people knew how to swim and if everyone knew the correct method of artificial respiration.

To give you some idea of the great loss of life by drownings the following will perhaps be of interest. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics report for 1944 give the registration area of Canada as a total population of 11,958,000. Among this population there were 788 drowning accidents, of which 649 occurred among males.

Most of these could have been prevented. Not all, of course, occurred from bathing because some were due to persons going through the ice in winter, others were from boat accidents, but the vast majority occurred while people were enjoying themselves in bathing.

Of all summer accidents, with the exception of those due to automobiles, drownings take by far the largest toll. During the summer our waterside resorts are thronged with people enjoying themselves in the water and with our young people learning to swim. Unfortunately, far too many take risks which often result in a tragedy. Some people swim long distances in deep water unaccompanied by a boat, they become exhausted and a drowning accident results. In this regard it might be interesting to repeat what has often been said about some of the best swimmers in the world who have stated that they would never go any distance in deep water unless a boat were close by.

Our supervised bathing beaches seldom have a drowning accident because of the well-trained efficient lifeguards on duty, and if people obey orders and do not go beyond the supervised area, they are quite safe. Most of the drowning accidents occur at private beaches or when a person goes in swimming alone. Chances are the cause of many drownings, usually because the person in the canoe does not know how to handle it or does some foolish act which results in his craft going over.

You may well ask how these drownings are to be prevented. First of all, children during their elementary school course should be taught how to swim. I do not mean that we should expect to develop speed swimmers, but if everyone going in the water could learn how to keep afloat and swim a hundred feet with his clothes on, then I think there would be few drownings. If a boat or a canoe turns over people should be taught how to hold on to the overturned craft. Every boy and girl before they leave the elementary school should learn not only to swim, but also how to do artificial respiration. The most popular method is the Schaefer method. In this the body is raised gently by the waist to allow water to drain from the lungs and stomach. It is then placed in a prone position with the head and chest lower than the rest, if possible. The head should be placed on one side on one of the patient's arms. The rescuer kneels astride the victim and applies pressure rhythmically in the region of the lungs. If possible, the patient should be kept warm with blankets and hot water bottles.

Rescuers should remember these five points:

1. Clear the patient's mouth quickly.
2. Start artificial respiration without delay.
3. Use warmth if possible.
4. Do not stop artificial respiration until the patient breathes or a doctor pronounces the patient dead.
5. After the patient is breathing do not allow him to sit up, stand, or walk, but transport him in a lying-down position and put him in hospital if necessary.

There are well-authenticated reports of artificial respiration being successful after as many as five hours. In cases of electrical shock, at least one instance is known of a patient being revived after apparently being dead for eight hours. Even if the victim has been in the water for as long as 30 minutes, there is a chance that life is not extinct—thus proper resuscitation methods have a chance of bringing back consciousness.

Remember that artificial respiration must be started as quickly as possible and continued for a long period—six hours or longer. It is not until rigor mortis sets in that life can be assumed to be extinct. One of the most documented cases of late revival is that of a child brought back to life after five hours' active work and hours after the child had been pronounced dead.

Good morning and keep healthy!

EYES FRONT

At a cocktail party before a dance, one of the guests was a young lady noted for her beautiful face and her lack of figure. But that night her red, low-cut evening gown was surprisingly well fitted. Her "new" figure was a whispered topic of conversation until two menhatters had been consumed by one of the braver males. He approached her and complimented her on her figure, gazing steadily at the low cut front.

Without batting an eye, the lady smiled and asked, "Like it? It's the real decoy!"

RIBS ARE BROKEN TWICE BY ONE COW

Ell Lampman of near-by Calor Centre is thinking about giving up raising cows. Or at least he is thinking about getting rid of one cow in particular. For the second time in four months he is nursing broken ribs. Each time they were broken when one of his cows, the same one in both cases, tossed her head and her horn struck him on the side.

Winona Legion Carnival next Thursday night.

Remuneration for the Mayor of Burlington has been increased to $300 a year.

Ontario Construction Co. have commenced the excavation and concrete work on the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

The Grimsby and District Aquatic Meet will be held at Grimsby Beach on Saturday afternoon August 14th commencing at two p. m.

Building activity took a slight drop during July as compared with the same month of last year, according to figures released by the City Engineer's Department of St. Catharines.

Les Larson went to Point Au Baril on a fishing trip over the weekend with a party of friends and he succeeded in landing a big Pike that measured 42 inches and weighed 20 pounds. The party caught six other pike all measuring 30 inches or over. They were all caught on a line.

Leslie Robinson living on the second sideway south of the Ridge Road killed a rattlesnake last week that measured three feet four inches in length and was four and one-half inches in circumference. We understand that several rattlers have been seen at various points over the mountain in the past few months but this is the biggest one reported to date.

During the month 36 permits were issued for estimated building cost of $150,820. Of the total 13 permits were for dwellings at a cost of $77,500. A new office for the Beaver Lumber Company was estimated at $25,000 and an apartment conversion on James Street at $11,000. The total of permits to the end of July was $1,083,545. The July 1947 permits totalled $279,300 and for the six month period $1,282,170.

CENTURY OLD BARS TAKEN OFF BUILDING

There's great rejoicing in the Grimsby Township offices in St. Catharines. They're taking the iron bars off the windows and giving the building its first coat of paint in 25 years.

The bars have been on the windows since the building was erected 100 years ago. It was formerly used as the county registry office until it was taken over by Grimsby Township as an office in 1923. Up until recently, vines covered the Chestnut St. side of the exterior, but they have been removed for the painting.

OLY WASTE BLAMED FOR THEATRE FIRE

BEAUSVILLE, July 26.—A stubborn haze that started in a store-room of the Beam Theatre here had the fire department busy from Sunday night through till Monday morning. Oly waste was blamed for the fire, and firemen were forced to use mops to battle the blaze. The theatre was empty at the time of the fire, and the alarm was turned in by Tom Beckin who lives next door. It is estimated that the smoke damage was considerable, but there was very little fire damage.

66 PER CENT VOTED IN ONTARIO ELECTION

TORONTO, July 31.—More than 66 per cent of those eligible voted in the Ontario election last June 7—slightly fewer than voted in the 1945 election.

An official summary showed Friday that 1,750,261 of 2,638,818 eligible voters used their ballots this year. In 1945 1,765,793 of a possible 2,489,940 votes were cast.

The Progressive Conservatives, who elected 53 members in the 96-seat legislature, polled 727,412 votes. The Liberals, with 13 seats, had total of 515,846 votes, while the C.C.F. with 21 had 465,834.

ASSAULT CASES AIRED IN THE COUNTY COURT

Three assault cases were heard before Magistrate H. D. Mallett Monday. Out of the three only one brought a conviction, one was withdrawn and one was dismissed.

Herbert Henke, North Grimsby, charged with assaulting his wife, had the charge withdrawn when his wife asked it. Magistrate Mallett, commenting that "there will be no more withdrawals if you appear again," said that no one was going to make a farce of the courts by preferring charges of this nature indiscriminately and then withdrawing them. It was the second time this year that a similar charge had been withdrawn by the couple.

Stuff Round Town

By GORD MCGREGOR

My companion and I sat at the bar of a well-known Buffalo hotel, while outside a driving rain quickly caused a minor flood on the glistening pavement. Gaudy neon signs cast grotesque patterns on the scene, as people hurriedly sought shelter from the sudden storm. Here in the quiet cool atmosphere of a basement retreat, soft lights mixed with colorful tapestries and modernistic furniture. Voices of patrons seemed hardly above a whisper as whirling electric fans caused a monotone that seemed to make voices come as from a distance. As we sat there in this mechanical drowse, a voice seemed to break the spell, a voice full of energy and apparent freshness. The contrast was astounding.

Looking up we saw the person moving toward us, and from his movements we deduced that perhaps he had had one too many. Reaching out for the corner of the bar, he sat down carefully, yet with a sense of security. My companion and I both thought the same thing, and prepared for one of those meaningless conversations. The newcomer suddenly asked me if there was any song I would like to hear. After naming a well-known composition, the fellow moved away from the bar and over to a piano that stood beneath a large mirror.

As he struck the opening chords, the voices in the room dropped even lower, and it was soon evident that the man at the keyboard was one of those fortunate musicians that can hold the rapt attention of his audience. At the conclusion of the number, I moved over to the piano and thanked the artist for the fine rendition, whereupon he asked if there was anything else that I would like to hear. It was only when I saw him run his fingers over an index of little dots clustered on carefully kept cards, that I realized the truth. The man was blind.

The next thing that caught our attention was the purple and gold lapel pin that denoted the wearer as a member of Lions International. Mentioning this, we were soon enlightened as to just what the Lions meant to him. And this is the story.

Frank Senn, Jr., has, through the efforts of the Lions Club, received expert teaching from a prominent Buffalo piano teacher. They have also provided him with Braille equipment, with which he indexes each new song he learns, so that when asked to play any song that customers might request, it is a simple matter for him to look it up on his index, and that it is written in the key of G, is a waltz, was popular in such and such a year, and all the rest of the knowledge that he needs to be able to play it, not by ear, but by knowing from his teacher the basic chords and henceforth the melody. Frank Senn plays every night in this hotel, and makes his own living, which is so important to a person handicapped as he is. His days are spent in his own studio, which the Lions have helped outfit, complete with recording outfit, microphones, piano and organ attachment.

He turns out records which he sells, and also small recordings which he gives away to patrons at his place of employment. Also of interest is the little Braille machine which was brought out by the Lions. About four by six inches, it has six keys on it, which when punched, spell out in Braille any word or words that the operator wishes. This comes out on a paper tape. Moving from table to table, people request numbers, he in turn places their request on this Braille tape, and by running over the tape with his fingers, knows exactly what was requested.

To see Frank Senn work is really a pleasure, and left us with the thought, that our own trivial problems are mere nothing. We hope to hear, and see more of Frank Senn in the future, his is truly a story of request, and a glowing tribute to the fine organization which has given him a chance to be as other men.

Ho, hum! One can now live as cheaply as two used to do.
